

BARNES' BIG SHOW COMING JUNE 22

Great 4 Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus Is Wonderful Exhibition

A splink, splanking new show, a new program—not so new, however, but what the time-honored features which have made the circus America's most popular form of amusement, are retained, are the promises held forth for the circus that is to visit Rhinelander Thursday, June 22.

The circus referred to, of course, is the world's greatest wild animal show—the Al. G. Barnes' big four-ring wild animal circus. In saying "new" show, it isn't inferred that the Barnes' show is new to the people of Rhinelander, for it has visited here before and is strictly in keeping with the truth to say that its performances always give genuine and wholesome satisfaction.

Acts that thrill, acts that amaze, others that instruct and those that create laughter—all of them entirely new and of an original character are promised to those who witness this season's performance. The scope of the feats performed by the animals has been profusely broadened for this year's tour. Grown people will find in the thrilling spectacular acts a satisfying array of entertainment, while the kiddies will have bushels of fun watching the antics of the half hundred animal clowns. The comicality of these laugh creators is also guaranteed to be juvenescent to all grandpas and grandmas present.

Special attention is directed this year to the big wild animal features in which the largest groups of lions, tigers and bears ever shown are performed. Educated Royal Bengal tigers, thirty acrobatic and comedy bears, the horse-riding lions, leopards and hyenas will certainly gratify anyone's appetite for the sensational.

Acts of a quieter character, but none the less interesting, in which domestic animals are the star actors, are generously interspersed throughout the program. There's a massive ensemble in which a hundred beautiful and highly educated ponies take part. The world's champion dancing horses—sixteen in number—are shown in one of the very greatest circus features of all times. Trapeze performing monkeys, tight and slack roping, walking dogs, monkeys, goats and pigs, and racing ostriches, combine in giving some of the most delightful circus entertainment ever witnessed.

WOMAN DIES IN SLEEPER BERTH

Mrs. Marie Danielsen of Manitowish, Mich., died in her berth in a Soo line sleeping car just as the Pacific limited entered this city Friday morning. The lady was on her way to Minneapolis to submit to a surgical operation. Her daughter was accompanying her on the trip.

Mrs. Danielsen had been in ill health for some time past, but it was not thought that she was in such a critical condition. She was 51 years of age.

The remains were removed from the train to the Nick undertaking rooms here and were taken to Manitowish Saturday morning.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

The death of Albert Lawrence occurred at his home, 221 Alban St., Thursday morning. The funeral was conducted from the house this forenoon, Rev. C. J. Messenger of the M. E. church officiating at the services.

Mr. Lawrence was 65 years of age and a native of Germany. He came to America when 22 years old and resided for a short time in New York City from where he moved to Montgomery, Minn. About 25 years ago he moved to this city and had since made his residence here.

Mr. Lawrence is survived by a wife and one daughter, Elizabeth, and one son, Albert Jr. Being one of the old residents of Rhinelander deceased leaves a large circle of friends here who learn of his death with deep regret. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

The class is composed of the following seventeen young ladies, the largest class ever graduated from the school:

Anderson, Bessie Marie, President
McElrhone, Helen, Vice President

Kearns, Marie, Treasurer
McLaughlin, Catherine, Valedictorian

Eide, Signy Adelheid

Davies, Edith E.
Means, Zella Jennie

Connors, Bessie

The members of the class whose names are marked with a star are High school graduates. The rest have had in nearly every case some High school work. One has done college and another one has been a student in a State Normal school for a time. The educational preparation of this class before entering the work of the Training school has been of a higher order than that of any other class. Those of the class who are also High school graduates will receive a diploma which will entitle them to teach for five years, the rest receive diplomas good for three years. Both classes of diplomas are renewable after doing certain prescribed work in a State Normal school for an equal length of time.

With this class the Training school will have furnished 75 graduates. In addition to these, quite a number of the teachers of the county have done some work in the Training school. Some of the earlier graduates of the school are now attending a State Normal school, or have already been graduated from one. This seems to show that this school has succeeded in instilling in its graduates a desire for higher training to be obtained at the earliest possible opportunity.

MODEL SCHOOL.
The Model School, a department of the County Training School, closed its second year of work June second. The school will start on its third year in the fall with Miss Newell in charge. Because of the many applications made by parents for the enrolling of their children in this school it has been decided to open the enrollment during the month of June.

There are a few vacancies in the first and second grades. Parents who wish to enroll their children in this school are advised to do so at once. Miss Newell will be at the Training school until June twenty-third and will furnish any information regarding the school.

PLANT TROUT FRY.
A number of cans of trout fry were received from the state fish hatcheries by Rhinelander sportsmen today and were planted in nearby streams.

REMODEL CHURCH FOR Y. M. C. A.

Baptist Edifice To Be Converted Into Suitable Quarters For New Club

H. F. Liebert, the architect who designed the new Oneida Hotel and his assistant Mr. J. Rhodin have inspected the big basement of the Baptist church and will draw the plans for the Y. M. C. A. rooms. It is the purpose of the architects to have a large club room with door facing Brown street so that the boys and the men will not have to go through the church auditorium. The locker rooms, shower baths and gymnasium will be in rear of the building. The rooms for night school will be located up stairs joining auditorium. Bids from the contractors will be in order next week. A board of directors will be appointed consisting of one prominent business man from each of the churches of Rhinelander and these men will have control of the money to be spent on work. Mr. Wedge says he will not handle a dollar of the money and prefers to give his time entirely to the institutional work of the Y. M. C. A.

A mother came to the office this week to inquire when the night school will be open. She said she had three sons who have been for several years her only support. The youngest of these boys is fifteen years of age and the oldest nineteen years, and they have not had the advantages of an early education. They are bright ambitious youngsters and sent their mother during the day while they were working in the mills and factories to see about the night school which Mr. Wedge is going to start in September, and which some of the prominent business men in our city are going to make possible by their assistance. The names of these men will be published in a later edition of this paper.

FLAG DAY IS NEXT THURSDAY

In accordance with its custom for the past nineteen years, the American Flag Association reminds the public through a circular letter, that Wednesday June 14, 1916, will be the 139th anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes, as the flag of our country. It is a genuine satisfaction that the public recognition of Flag Day as a national anniversary is each year becoming more and more general.

In the past and increasingly every year, the governors of the states have by their proclamations, called public attention to the day and ordered the flag to be displayed on all public buildings, and invited their fellow citizens to celebrate the day.

Also mayors of cities, for recognition of this anniversary, have also ordered flags to be displayed upon municipal buildings of their respective cities, and by formal proclamation or otherwise, have invited their fellow citizens to do the same upon their private buildings.

IN NEW STORE
Harry R. Goldstone's dry goods store is now located in its new home in the recently completed Hilgerman building on S. Brown street. This is one of the most commodious and up-to-date store buildings in Rhinelander and will permit Mr. Goldstone to carry a larger stock, arrange better displays and more conveniently handle his increasing trade. New furniture and fixtures will gradually be installed throughout. One of the features of the store is an elegant display front.

The first customer at the store was Mrs. Bud Nichols, who made a purchase early this forenoon, shortly after the opening.

MANY JOIN M. W. A.
Lake Camp 1743, M. W. A. adopted a large class at its regular meeting Wednesday night. A social session followed the business portion of the meeting.

Lake Camp is one of the largest in the state and continues to show a healthy growth. Within the last month much special deputy work has been done here with very satisfactory results.

Sunday last both the M. W. A. and R. N. A. lodges held memorial services at Forest Home cemetery.

A number of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Geo. L. Clark gathered at her home Thursday evening to celebrate her birthday. Cards were played and a general good time had by all present. Mrs. Clark received many dainty and useful presents.

BLACKMAILER IS SENT TO PRISON
George Lauer was sentenced by Judge Fowler in Fond du Lac Monday to one year in prison. He pleaded guilty to complicity with his aunt, Mrs. Julia Rueckart, in sending threatening letters demanding money from the Rev. Robert E. Ingraham, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Rueckart will be arraigned before the end of this week.

Considerable interest has been aroused among Rhinelander people in this case as Rev. Ingraham was pastor of the M. E. church here about fifteen years ago. He is reputed to possess much wealth.

On and after June 10, 1916 the First National bank will close at 3 p. m.

598 TEAM WINS FROM MILWAUKEE

Rhinelanders Elks Carry Off Honors in Green Bay Base Ball Game

One of the entertainment features of the annual state B. P. O. E. convention in Racine this week was a base ball game between the Rhinelander Elks and Milwaukee Elks. The game took place Tuesday and resulted in a victory for Rhinelander by a score of 13 to 0. Besides the base ball team several members of 598 attended the convention, which was a success regardless of the inclement weather. Green Bay Elks and the people in that city showed all visitors a royal time.

Chauncey Yockey of Milwaukee was elected president of the association and an invitation to meet in Fond du Lac in 1917 was accepted. Ashland was the only other city in the running.

Other officers elected were: First vice president, E. R. Smith, Oshkosh; second vice president, A. H. Vickert, Menasha; third vice president, Samuel Pullman, Antigo; secretary, Theodore Benlie, Sheboygan; treasurer, Jay P. McDermott, Fond du Lac; trustees, Edward Grassler, Milwaukee; Burt E. Nelson, Racine; John W. Gauerke, Green Bay; W. F. Hurligen, La Crosse; E. P. Steinberg, Appleton. President Yockey appointed the Rev. George B. Langbrake of La Crosse chaplain, E. Lipman, Beloit, inner guard, and E. B. Wild, Fond du Lac, sergeant-at-arms.

The number of Odd Fellows in Wisconsin is more than 21,000 and here in Racine there are several hundred with a large membership also in the two Rebekah orders.

CITY CLERGYMEN ARE ORGANIZED

Ministers Will Stand Together On All Moral And Civic Problems

Monday morning at 10 o'clock several ministers met at the Congregational church and formed an organization to be known as the Rhinelander Ministerial Association. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Rev. W. C. Heyl, Pres., Rev. C. J. Messenger, Vice Pres., Rev. Carl Silfversten, treasurer; Rev. Fred R. Wedge, secretary. The purpose of this organization is that the ministers of our city may meet together to discuss the moral and civic problems of the community and that when action is needed on issues that vitally concern the moral welfare of the people of this city the ministers may stand together and present a united effort. At these Monday morning meetings a paper will be read by some minister and a discussion will follow and comments will be made by other pastors present. Visitors will be welcome to attend these meetings. Every city of any importance has a ministerial association and these organizations have a strong influence in the city. The spirit of Rhinelander is progressive and the desire of her ministers is to boost everything that is good and up lifting in the city.

DORY UNFAIR SAYS PERKINS
Billy Perkins of this city was knocked out by Joe Dory in the eighth round of a scheduled ten round bout in Green Bay Monday night.

Perkins claims that Dory put up a dirty fight, resorting to all manner of tactics in order to win out. He frequently fouled, often deliberately. Perkins asserts that he had never before encountered such an unfair opponent.

One man who witnessed the show states that the local boy was the favorite with the crowd and won many admirers by his clean and clever boxing.

PLAY BRINGS END TO SCHOOL YEAR

Production By Seniors Thursday And Friday Nets Seventy Dollars

When the curtain at the high school fell after the last act of the class play Friday evening, the school year of 1915-1916 came to a close. The play attracted a large audience of friends of the school, Thursday and a smaller one on Friday. While the play was not entirely a comedy as most class plays are, there was enough of lightness to the action to keep it most interesting.

After paying the expenses of putting on the play, fifty dollars was paid on the new outdoor scenery for the stage purchased this year. The balance, nearly twenty dollars will be placed in the Victrola fund. This addition will make this fund nearly eighty dollars. We hope next year to purchase one of the better Victrolas for the high school.

In his little talk concerning the class at Commencement last week Wednesday evening, Mr. Colburn mentioned the fact that all of the forty-nine members of last year's class but one had gone to school during the year or were at work. Several of them hold good positions in offices in the city. Those away at school are making good records.

A goodly number of the forty-one boys and girls of the class of 1916 will continue their education, the coming year in Normal school or college. We shall look to see them give a good account of themselves.

The corps of teachers for next year is nearly completed. The Board has not secured a commercial teacher, but all other positions are filled. A list of the prospective teachers and their positions will be printed soon.

A six weeks summer school for grades 7 to 10, will be conducted at the Central school, beginning next Monday morning. Miss White and Mr. Colburn will be in charge. A special effort will be made to help pupils to remove conditions that have resulted from failures.

Mr. W. E. Hicks of Madison was in Rhinelander Wednesday conferring with the newly appointed Industrial Board. This Board is planning to take over the summer school mentioned above and conduct it as the first session of the new school. Classes will be offered in such subjects as there seem to be a strong demand for. Students desiring to take work in this school are requested to meet Miss White and Mr. Colburn at the Central school at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Several of the teachers spent the week end "up river" but most of them have departed for their homes. Of the high school teachers who do not return, Mr. Hollister will teach next year at Decorah, Iowa, and Miss Linkfield at Wauwatosa; Miss Seilstad will attend Gregg School; and Miss Smith will practically remain at home for part of the year at least. Misses Bremner and Salzman have not decided their next year's work as yet. The departure of these fine young people who have made so many friends in and out of school, is a source of deep regret to all members of the community.

EAGLES' PICNIC
SUNDAY JUNE 18

Rhinelanders Eagles, their families and friends, will hold a picnic at Fette's resort, up the Wisconsin river, Sunday June 18. The new excursion boat put into service by Messrs. Johnson and Anderson, of the Rhinelander Boat Livery, will carry people to and from the picnic grounds for 50 cents round trip.

The Eagles plan to make this picnic a big holiday event and everyone who desires a good time is invited to attend. There will be plenty of wholesome entertainment for young and old.

There will be races and contests and the band will play all day. Forget your troubles and enjoy yourself with the Eagles.

EVENTS OF WEEK IN NEARBY TOWNS

Ashland—

Reports from the collector of customs office for the tonnage handled at this port for the month of May indicate that the tonnage for the past month was nearly double that of the same period of last year. The total tonnage handled here May 1915 was 533,000; for last month it was 926,126, which reveals a remarkable gain. The amount of coal handled here last month was 63,126 tons in comparison with 131,372 tons of May 1915. The arrivals and clearances of boats for May 1915 totaled 131, while the arrivals and clearances for May of this year totaled 244.

New London—

Frank Hall, the well known passenger brakeman on the G. B. & W., tells that a few days ago at Green Bay he had a passenger, who lives within six miles of Green Bay take his first ride on the steam cars. The man asked where to get on the cars and that brought out the story that he was thirty-five years old and this was the first time he had ever rode on the steam cars.

Escanaba—

John Norack of Escanaba, has just completed the construction of an automatic telescopic lens valued at $1,200 and which took nine months work to complete. The lens has been sold to A. W. Lieder of Portland, Ore., and will be forwarded this week. The big lens has been submitted to every possible test to prove the perfectness of construction and so perfect is it that there is no greater defect than one two-millionth part of an inch. When placed in use so powerful is the glass, that it will bring the moon within 226 miles for observation.

Washburn—

Thanks to the DuPont Powder company and Superintendent F. T. Beers, who is also President of the School Board, the school treasury is $5000 richer as the result of a gift from the DuPont company. The gift from the powder company came as an entire surprise to the school officials and it was certainly a welcome one. For some time past Superintendent Beers has been carrying on correspondence with the company and the gift is the result of his efforts and the generosity of the powder company.

Crandon—

This is from the Crandon Republican: Frank Vaughan, a woodsman and hunter who lives on the shore of Pine Lake, near Hiles, saw a deer last Sunday out in the lake. It was so long in the water that Vaughan finally took a boat and rowed out to the animal and discovered that it was nearly exhausted. He took the animal by the ear and towed it to shore. It exhibited little sign of life at first, but Mr. Vaughan covered it with a blanket and poured some Sloan's Liniment down its throat and left it. In the morning the deer was gone.

SOME TRILBYS THESE

A settler who lives near Armstrong Creek sent an order to the Herbst Shoe Store Monday for a pair of heavy work shoes, size No. 13. This is the "biggest shoe" order K. B. Maxwell, manager of the store, has ever received, and not having such a "dainty" pair of kicks in stock he sent a hurry up call to the factory.

lumber is more than "just wood"

Buying lumber deserves a little thought. Every kind of wood has its own special uses. Using the wrong kind of wood is no wiser than trying to plow with a cultivator.

We do not recommend "Old Faithful" HEMLOCK for high class interior trim and doors (use Birch for that) though Hemlock makes fine, soft wood trim; nor for shingles, nor posts, nor several other things. BUT—

When it comes to the "hard work" jobs—the studs, rafters, under-floors; rough boarding and siding; the barn floors; station platforms, crossing planks—wherever pretty grain and varnish don't count but "stand-up" does—nothing to it but "Old Faithful" HEMLOCK.

LITTLE CHATS ABOUT POULTRY

(By G. E. Conkey)

In some form or other green food is quite essential for correct poultry feeding. Unless green food enters the ration in proper quantity it is quite impossible to get satisfactory results with either chicks or fowl.

From a chemical analysis or from thest and-point of nutritive values green food does not show up strong. Its importance being rather due to its succulence and bulk and the assistance that it gives in the digestion of other foods. Green food also adds variety to the ration and serves as an appetizer. Succulent greens seem to possess some qualities that keep the system in good condition and help ward off disease. This is evidenced in many flocks by a marked increase in the number of eggs laid grass begins to get green.

During the summer months on in late spring and autumn the farm-range flock does not lack for green food. Birds that are closely confined, however, must have green food supplied them during the summer. Leafy garden crops like lettuce, kale, rape, swiss chard, will be found desirable for them. Clover or alfalfa where these can be grown, make a fine food that can be cut up daily for the birds. Even these, however, in the form of a dry meal for the mash will not, take the place of succulent greens.

If you can get lawn clippings feed this freely but do not hold for more than a day or two before using. Fresh clippings must not be piled up and allowed to heat or ferment for in this condition they will cause digestive troubles. When grass is given to chicks cut it up into short lengths for otherwise its use may result in impaction of the crop. Long dry grass does not make a good litter for confined chicks in the absence of something better. This may be eaten and accumulate as a fibrous in the intestines thus causing the death of the chick. Very often grass is dried and stored for future use.

While various greens, more easily and more cheaply produced during warm weather, are used as green food for poultry at that time, for winter feeding sprouted oats are an exceedingly popular green food and are perhaps the most largely used of all greenfoods at that time of the year.

Besides sprouted oats, cabbage mangels and other beets are the best and most available green foods that can be used during cold weather. Both cabbage and beets are good keepers when stored in a suitable cellar or buried outside. The beets have somewhat of an advantage in keeping qualities, feeding value, and cost of production. They may be cut up into small pieces for feeding but a better and easier way is to allow the birds to pick at them as a means of exercise.

Sprouted oats are easily produced at any time of the year the only requirement being a place where the temperature does not fall below 60 degrees. Where heated oat sprouting cabinets are used, sprouted oats may be had at all times of the year.

A simple outfit for sprouting oats may be made by constructing a rack about 30 inches and five feet high. Wooden trays about 30 inches square and two inches deep are made to fit into the rack sliding in and out on cleats that are placed about eight or ten inches apart and nailed to opposite sides of the rack. Holes are bored in the bottom of the trays to allow the water to drain off for otherwise the oats would rot.

Be sure that the oats you use for sprouting are bright and heavy. Soak them in warm water for about a day before placing them in the trays, and spread them out there to a depth of an inch or an inch and a half. Sprinkle them once a day with warm water, and in a week or ten days they will be ready for use. Too much growth is not advisable because after a certain time they may mould or rot and they will also lose much of that tenderness that is so desirable. Bear in mind that poor drainage in the trays and too much heat are things to guard against in sprouting oats.

While sprouted oats may be thrown to older stock in a chunk, the birds picking it to pieces, it is best to use only the tops for feeding chicks cutting the tops up with an old pair of shears. Sprouted oats give you a cheap green food for poultry and it should be used freely when other materials of this nature are not at hand. It is safe to give all that the hens will clean up in a few minutes.

Onions are considered a tonic for poultry and their use in small quantities especially in the feeding of chicks is to be recommended. Beware, however, of a continuous and liberal feeding of onions as this will impart an odor to both flesh and eggs.

For early spring pasture rye planted in the fall makes good green food.

Rape is also used for poultry pasture and being hardy is especially good for late fall feeding.

Lettuce is good chiefly to furnish succulence for early brooder chicks before other greens are available.

Pumpkins can be used for poultry in fall and early winter but they are poor keepers. In feeding pumpkins, take care not to feed the seeds.

Cured alfalfa and clover either in short cut or meal form mixed in a moist mash are used considably in winter feeding. Cured grasses, however, do not entirely take the place of succulent greens.

STATE GUARD MAY HAVE NEW OATH

Appleton, Wis., June 5.—Members of the Wisconsin National Guard are in a quandary as to whether they will be required to sign a new oath to become eligible for federal pay.

A copy of the bill which passed the house has been received at the headquarters of the Second infantry, reading in part:

"Enlisted men in the organized militia now serving under enlistment contracts which contain an obligation to defend the constitution of the United States, and to obey the orders of the president of the United States, shall be recognized as members of the National guard under the provisions of this act for the unexpired portion of their enlistment contract."

The present enlistment oath reads:

"I solemnly swear that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, and bear true allegiance to the same, and that I will yield prompt obedience to all orders and instructions from my superior officers and to all laws which have been or may be enacted for the organization, government and discipline of the Wisconsin National Guard."

Whether the president can be classed as "a superior officer" in this particular case is a question. The oath of the future will be:

"I do hereby acknowledge to have voluntarily enlisted this day of June as a soldier in the National guard of the United States and of the state of Wisconsin for the period of three years in service and three years in the reserve, under the conditions prescribed by law, unless sooner discharged by proper authority. And I do solemnly swear that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America and the state of Wisconsin, and that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever, and that I will obey the orders of the president of the United States and of the governor of the state of Wisconsin, and of the officers appointed over me, according to law and the rules and articles of war."

ONLY ONE FLAG FOR AMERICANS

Judge A. H. Reid Urges United Loyalty In Memorial Day Address

In his Memorial Day address in Tomahawk Judge A. H. Reid, of this judicial circuit, made an urgent appeal for true patriotism among all Americans. He said:

"While in these trying times across the sea in which many of us have brothers of our own blood mingled, our sympathies are caught and held each for his forefather's land, let us never for a moment forget that we are Americans, with but one loyalty, one flag to honor and defend, and that our country's. We should make it clear to all the world that we are an aggregation of races here, but that we are a nation which is not only a unit to itself but to all the world. I cannot too solemnly say that upon that spirit depends all we hold dear."

"When the first rumors of expected war in Europe were wired across the Atlantic, we met them with incredulity. It did not seem to us possible that the rulers of Europe could commit the superhuman folly of plunging the nations into war. We could not see why a firm adherence to justice and moderation would not solve every question that could arise. We had so long been accustomed in this country to believe that the rights of nations could be determined by the same principles of justice which we apply to the rights of individuals, and had cultivated so much the spirit of humanity, that we could not believe that there existed that spirit of imperialistic aggression and that cold-blooded ambition which we now see possessed the rulers of Europe. And the war came with such a sudden swiftness that while we were still saying 'It cannot be' a fierce and widespread slaughter was already well advanced."

"And we now know that humanity and justice have not so fully possessed the civilized world as we had thought. We now know that such a calamity as has come to Europe is not only possible to us here but may come with such swiftness as to leave no time for preparation."

"Had such a quarrel been forced upon America at the time when it came to the nations of Europe we might have become an easy prey. What might have been the result no one could exactly know. But we do know that nothing less fearful and heart rending than has fallen upon crushed Belgium and bleeding Poland would have come to us. At this time not one of us should for a moment forget that all possibilities of our weal or woe are bound up in the fortunes of our nation; that not one act should be done and not one word spoken concerning our nation's policy which has not for its object our own highest interests; and that not one precaution should be omitted which may be necessary to preserve, protect and defend our peaceful and happy homes and our truly beneficent national Government."

"And in order that we may proclaim in ways that can not be misunderstood and in language of deepest sincerity that no patriotic deeds shall ever in this land go unhonored, the American people with reverence and sorrow and illumined with a hope full of immortality, today remember the brave men who fought for their country; and strewing flowers on the resting places of the dead, to commemorate their virtues, we have consecrated this anniversary to keep green their memories throughout the coming years, till in their graves they shall hear the quickening voice 'I am the resurrection and the life,' and awake and come forth into full citizenship in that new and wondrous world where strife never enters, where love is the universal law and the nations war no more. And while we honor the memory of the dead let us dedicate ourselves to the service of the living. Here in this consecrated hour let all evil thoughts be banished, all strife cease, all enmities and hates be buried and the spirit of patriotism and fraternity be kindled into a living flame that shall glow and brighten and purify our hearts and lives and make us worthy citizens of a free, just and beneficent republic."

Your Factory on the Farm

Modern factories are laid out so as to get the most work done with the least lost motion. The barn ought to be planned in the same way.

Back hauls and other faults in planning are expensive. They make the work more difficult and waste your time in the bargain.

The farm factory, also, should be large enough to take care of the produce from your fields. Many real estate men estimate the fertility of a farm by the size and appearance of the barn. They set the proper valuation accordingly.

Command our services when planning your new barn. We'll go the limit in helping you.

COMMERCIAL FERTILIZERS

Commercial fertilizers are being used by some Wisconsin farmers in the production of such crops as tobacco and potatoes and other cash crops. But because of the rise in prices due to the war, the sale of commercial fertilizers has greatly decreased during the past year. With the increased prices it becomes more and more necessary for the purchaser of these fertilizers to know their real value.

The Word "Gent"

At one time the word "gent" was a reputable term for general use. A respectable writer in 1804 tells of "a supper to divers gentlemen of the Gray's Inn for the great amitie between them and the Middle Temple gents." The diarist Evelyn speaks of the "noise and tumult occasioned by three or four wild gents in drink." Soon after Queen Victoria's accession "gents" became vulgar. Thackeray speaks of it in 1842 as an "affectionate diminutive much in use among commercial persons."

PELICAN LAKE TO CELEBRATE 4TH

Pelican Lake is going to have a bigger and better 4th of July celebration than it has had in many years. Harold Weaver, who will be in charge of the day's events, was in the city Saturday arranging for the advertising and other details.

"We are going to have a celebration this year which will eclipse anything in that line ever attempted in Pelican Lake," said Mr. Weaver. "The program will be lengthy, but none of snap from start to finish. There will be races of every description, including Indian pony races, launch races and canoe tilting. There will be music all day, plenty of refreshments and in the evening there will be a brilliant display of fireworks followed by a grand ball. Mr. Weaver extends a cordial invitation to the public in general to come to Pelican Lake on July 4th.

J. R. Bently came down from Three Lakes to spend Sunday with his family.

"For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

Many counties have their star grafters. Oneida county is surely no exception.

THIS is America, we are Americans, we want an American nominated on the Republican ticket for President who dare say with out a hyphen he is an American and is always unqualifiedly for America.

WHAT do you think of a hyphenated un-American organization meeting in Chicago the first of the week to dictate the Republican nomination for President?

Can a man serve two Masters? Neither can he serve two countries. He is either an American or un-American. Which are you?

TOO OLD A TRICK
WE are opposed to any, so called conventions as unprogressive and unwilling to join in any such body to nominate a candidate. Any step on our part to do so will place us in the position of the stalwarts that is a little handful of people trying to tell the great body of voters what to do. The September primary is the place where nominations are made and it is the right of any man to run for an office who can get the necessary number of signers on his nomination papers. Beware of the fellow who heads three or four other names to call a meeting to carry out his own ends, and too often nominate himself. This trick is too old for modern civilization.

SMITH FOR ASSEMBLY
IRA Smith, chairman of the county board, has announced his willingness to become a candidate at the primaries in September for the nomination on the republican ticket for the assembly and a large element of the republican party in the county are pleased with this announcement. Mr. Smith is chairman of the county board and has a large and favorable acquaintance in the county and assembly district. He is a progressive republican and will be in favor of progressive measures. We believe Mr. Smith will have the endorsement of the district for this nomination. Oneida county has a larger population than both the other counties (Forest and Florence) of the assembly district and its wishes, we believe, will be respected.

INVESTIGATE LOTS
AT the regular council meeting, Tuesday evening, the mayor appointed Andrew Danielson, Frank Pecor and Wm. Gilligan, Jr., a committee to investigate the lots west of the new high school grounds and report back to the council what they think should be done with the proposed purchase. We are glad to see this step taken and if the lots are then wished, condemnation proceedings may be begun to obtain them at something near the right price.

We believe the committee will look over the present high school grounds and make a report which will take up the necessary added grounds on one side of the present high school site for football, baseball or any other out door sport. One thing is certain the proposed purchase would not be large enough for any of these sports.

SHUN THE PERSONAL
THERE is a class of men who wish to bring the personal element into their every wish and act. Of course this is a narrow selfish view but there are all kinds of men in the world. And so we must expect this very thing. We believe this is done to cloud the merit of the real issue and work up prejudice. However, in dealing with public questions the New North insists on treating matters on their merit and avoiding the personal element. It is the only fair way. More, when we are discussing the merit of public propositions, we have no friends to favor or enemies to punish. A newspaper can be in no other position and be fair and neutral. An organ can not be independent.

THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW
THE common council and the present city administration are in favor of publishing in one of the city newspapers the entire real estate assessment as set by the city assessor before the board of review meets. Then the tax payers will be able to see their own assessments and those of other taxpayers and compare them and decide whether they care to go before the board of review to secure a change. This is what the New North tried to bring about three years ago but at that time the city attorney opposed it. We are glad to see such a striking change towards the rights of the common people. The time has come when the masses think they have a right to know what public officials are doing. The light of day never injured the efficiency of any official. A new era has come, "the right of the people to know what their servants are doing."

LIQUOR IS TO BLAME
Albert Lawrence was born 1852. He passed from this life Tuesday, June 6, 1916, leaving a wife, a son and a daughter. Rumor says that the man committed suicide but I believe in laying the blame for this death where it justly belongs. This man was murdered because he was too weak to resist a great temptation that came in his life. He was murdered by the men who made the liquor he drank, by the men who sold it to him and by the people who voted for the saloons in which he drank it. I believe in a square deal for the drunkard. You can't say the men who drink the whiskey go to hell and the men who made it, the men sold it and the men who voted for it are going to heaven. We do not know the struggle of the soul of this man who lost his grip on hope, nor do we know the actual condition of his mind at the time but this one thing we do know, I would rather take his chance of heaven than stand before my God guilty of having helped to make the battle of life harder for this man, and for the mother of his children who are now without a father.

FRED J. WEDGE.

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

THE country editor and his paper need no defense from us, but we cannot help saying that the community which does not support its local paper is missing a wonderful opportunity. It has a field all its own and supplies a need which no other publication can meet. The country paper which fills its mission is a power for good and a beloved institution in every home into which it goes.

Every farmer should support and read his country paper. In no other medium can he learn the facts regarding the happenings in his community, with its record of marriages, births and deaths. No other paper brings him news of the sick in his neighborhood or informs of the date and hours of his social, business, religious and political gatherings. Nowhere else can he learn of the bargains which the local stores have to offer or of the thousand and one little things of the most intimate concern to himself and his family. In no other way can he keep posted on local matters of vital interest to him as a public spirited citizen and taxpayer. There is no substitute for the country newspaper—no other means of publicity and information can ever take its place.—Wisconsin Farmer.
